New Topics For Consideration

	Topic	Reason for Consideration/Topic Description
1	Chloride variances	There is significant confusion among permittees regarding the type and specificity of information DNR and EPA are requiring a permittee to submit in order to receive a chloride variance. In addition, the review process and time frame for variances needs clarity and definition.
2	Arsenic variances	Same as above.
3	Trading	Trading has not been a viable option for most municipal permittees. We request that DNR examine the trading program and ways to make it a more useful compliance option.
